

Willow Springs Residential Community

In collaboration with the project biologist, an upland native plant palette and ornamental native palette was created to revegetate the wetland edge and seamlessly blend it with the adjacent residential buildings. Parkinglot bioswales planted with native grass and trees filter stormwater before it enters the wetland.