

Castillian Technical Center

A thriving office and research complex in the heart of Goleta. Large trees frame lovely views of the surrounding mountains, while palms grace the building entries. Tough, drought tolerant flowering plants and shrubs create a welcoming atmosphere for workers and visitors. In collaboration with Castleberg Associates.