

---

Henley Gate University of California, Santa Barbara

Complete project management including conceptual sketches, road layout, landscape design, and construction administration for one of the main entrances to campus. A vast improvement that facilitates the high volume of cars with the use of a traffic circle and large median separation. Mature trees were imported to give the project an immediate sense of place. The elegant concave arch creates an embracing gateway. A winner of multiple awards.

---